CONSUMPTION.

The earlier symptoms of this disease are a sense of weariness upon little exertion, a disposition to remain passive and idle, a peculiar sensitiveness to the effects of cold and a shortness of breath upon moving quickly or ascending a hill or stairs, a slight hacking cough, with or without expectoration, flying pains throughout the chest or back, or under the shoulder blades. The symptoms are worse towards morning the night, slight fever in the afternoon, cold feet and hands, and in many cases a blue lividity of the lips and roots of the finger nails.

The more advanced symptoms are wasting of flesh, diarrhœa, chills and fever, night sweats, expectorations of yellow pus from the ulcers or cavities in the lungs, with or without a depression of the chest, increasing weakness and a local blowing of the air passages of the lungs, causing strangulation or suffocation of the patient for want of power to expectorate the mucous from the lungs.

Heretofore the treatment of consumption has been very unsatisfactory, both alike to the physicians and their patients, but luckily since the discovery of the Koch system of practice a few years ago, thousands of cases have been comparatively cured. This system of medicated inhalations is the only means by which these diseases can be cured. And they are recommended by the highest authority, both in Europe and America. And here we would draw the distinction between inhalation and atomization. Some persons suppose they are the same in every respect, while nothing is further from the truth. In Atomization the liquid is simply reduced to a spray, which only reaches the throat, while inhalation, the remedy to be inhaled is mixed with air we breathe, and is conveyed directly into the air passages of the lungs as ordinary air. By this means we are enabled to dissolve the hardened mucous in the lungs, cause the wasting, facilitate expectoration, heal and heal ulcers and cavities after all hope of cure by the ordinary methods is past. Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedy at home as well as at our office, which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

Inhalations are applicable to all diseases of the respiratory organs, including throat diseases, asthma, bronchitis, consumption, and catarrh. Every case can be cured by this mode of treatment when nothing else can reach them.

Consultation free and price within the reach of all.

The very best of references given from those already cured. And we would particularly urge upon our Eastern friends the necessity of direct medication. Inhalations--as well as the most favorable climatic influences, if you wish to avoid a long experience of hundreds of invalids who depend upon the climate alone, as nine cases out of ten die in consequence of this very thing.

Those who desire to consult me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for an examination, but if impossible to visit the office personally, may write for "List of Questions" and circular, both of which will be sent free of charge. Address,

THE season of hail-stone stories has been inaugurated in Northern Minnesota. The hail-stones are five and six inches in diameter, and in some places piled in drifts three feet deep. They make excellent stories

BARNUM announces that Jumbo died without progeny; that he valued Jumbo at $2,000,000 for exhibition and breeding purposes; that he proposes to sue the railway company upon whose road the famous elephant was killed for that amount, and, we suppose, make the bloated monopoly feel the weight of the elephant's foot.

SOME of President Cleveland's enthusiastic friends have proposed naming the new star in the nebula of Andromeda after him, but such persons might better wait till a little more is ascertained about the ecclesiastical stranger. According to the latest news from the sky the star is rapidly diminishing in glory, with a prospect of extinction. At this rate Mr. Cleveland wouldn't feel complimented by the proposed christening.

JEFF DAVIS arises to remark that the story of Lieutenant Ingrigg, of Indiana, about his (Davis's) capture, is a lie; that he did not ride to Macon in an old farm wagon; that the famous hoopskirt, crinoline and bonnet did not hang above him as he rode; that his life was not attempted on his arrival at Macon; that Ingrigg did not save his life, and, in short, that he never knew or heard of Ingrigg until he told this miserable fabrication. Jeff is late with his denial of a well-established fact in war history.

SANTA BARBARA is stirring herself in the matter of her county agricultural fair. She is wide awake to the value of this method of advertising her varied resources, and her success at Sacramento has naturally stimulated her to do her best in this direction. Santa Barbara's resources are numerous, and she is aware of the fact that they have never yet, with all the reputation she has won, been fully tested. Santa Barbara county is one of the fairest garden spots of the State, and with its intelligent, enterprising and prosperous people will make even a prouder record in the future than in the past. The TIMES is glad to note its progress and its success.

ONE of the most ominous features of the present is the eager search which public speakers, lawyers, and the press make after euphonious utterances that shall conceal the corruption of wrong doers. This hesitation in calling things by their right names is a sign of inward corruption. There is something wrong when men are afraid to call a lie a lie, or to speak of stealing as stealing, or to call a thief a thief, whether he be big or little, rich or poor. There is something "rotten in Denmark" when we are afraid of the good old plain English in speaking of the wrong-doing of those who belong to the better or wealthier classes of society.

SULLIVAN has figured up that he has made $157,000 out of prize-fighting in five years. Anthony Trollope calculated that he made $370,000 out of literature, but then he was twenty years about it and is dead, while Sullivan is still young and active. This shows that pugilism compares very well with writing novels as a business, and by a judicious understanding with the other party it need not involve much wear and tear of the features, while fiction exhausts the nervous system and brings on heart disease. Sullivan, slugging and success are synonymous.

WE print this morning timely interviews with a large number of citizens on the high-license question. In accordance with the custom of the TIMES, all sides are given a hearing. Great diversity of views is shown, but the weight of testimony, both as respects character and numbers, is clearly on the side of high license. The expressions of opinion, we are glad to note, are generally clear-cut and decided on one side or the other. Not much that is shilly-shally or namby-pamby is to be detected in the various utterances. This is well. Men are either for or against the measure, and we like to hear them say so in good honest Saxon. The ordinance is a justifiable, necessary and healthy measure of restriction on the evils of the liquor traffic, and we hope to see it approved, upheld and enforced.

THE Oakland Tribune prints an editorial headed, "Does Prohibition Prohibit?" in which it draws a strong picture of the practical effects of prohibition laws in Maine, and declares that drunkenness, and crimes flowing out of drunkenness, are on the increase in that State; that poisonous and villainous intoxicants are in general though clandestine use there, and that, compared with California, for instance, the state of affairs is far worse than in this wide-growing State, where, the Tribune claims, drunkenness is actually on the decrease, the use of pure wines and light beers producing the better result. "Prohibition would reverse all this," says our cotemporary, "for it would shut up the wine cellars and pull down the breweries, and the smugglers would do as they do in Maine, smuggle in the cheapest compounds, on which the greatest profits could be made. Prohibitory laws do not prohibit, and they never will. There is not a town in any prohibitory State in this Union where liquor cannot be had. The only result of prohibition laws is to abolish the harmless drinks, while the vile compounds prevail."

The obvious conclusion is that the proper regulation of the sale of stimulants can only be secured by vigorously-enforced license laws. High license is what the country is coming to. Couple with this policy stringent laws against the adulteration of liquors, and the result will inevitably be favorable to practical temperance. This world is a large and somewhat stubborn institution, and cannot be reformed in a day.

Latest From the Caceres Revolution --A Quiet Campaign.

LIMA, Sept. 24.--General Caceres at last advices, was quietly sojourning at Tarona. His forces, now computed at 2,500 men, with ten field pieces, are scattered over the country in that neighborhood, but make no demonstration toward Lima, where the government has a garrison of 5,000 soldiers. Further south, at Pisco, Ica and Chincha, the Caceristas are more active. Those three places have fallen into their hands, and in consequence, an order has been issued by the Treasury Department closing Pisco to commerce. Government forces hold Salverry, Irujillo and Cajamarca. It is reported that Col. Romero Flores, who commands the revolutionist troops in the north, made an attack on Avarca a few days ago and was driven off with considerable loss. The Indians in the department of Huaraz are somewhat turbulent. A thousand of them attacked the town of Caraz last week, but were driven off with great loss, by the Urban guard.

MAKE A VERY QUICK NOMINATION

After a Good Deal of Preliminary Sparring --The Platform to be Presented To day.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

SARATOGA, Sept. 24.--Fully as many ladies and prominent personages were present in the Casino at 11:30 this morning, to witness the proceedings of the Democratic convention, as attended the opening of the Republican convention, two days ago.

At exactly 12:30 o'clock the convention was called to order by Chairman O'Brien of the State Committee. Gen. Raines was elected Temporary Chairman. Raines, upon taking the chair, addressed the convention at some length. All references to President Cleveland were greeted with cheers.

Representatives of the Anti-Monopoly League and the State Trades Assembly then addressed the convention briefly.

Burke Cochrane then offered strong resolutions against civil service laws, which were greeted with tremendous applause. These resolutions are similar to those adopted by Tammany Hall some weeks ago.

At 2:15 p. m. the convention adjourned until 7:30 p. m.

The five hours elapsing between the close of the afternoon and the opening of the evening session were occupied by leading delegates in looking after the interests of their respective candidates. The hall was densely crowded when the hour for the evening session arrived. Fully one-half of the spectators were ladies. The delegates were all in their seats at 8. Half an hour after the appointed time Temporary Chairman Raines called the convention to order. The Committee on Contested Seats reported, recommending that the contesting and regular delegations from Westchester be both admitted, with a half vote for each; also, that the contesting delegation from Chautauqua be admitted as the rightful delegation. The contest in Livingston county was reported as having been settled and withdrawn. The report was adopted.

The Committee on Permanent Organization reported, recommending that the temporary chairman, Hon. George Raines, be made permanent chairman. This was agreed to with applause. A list of vice-chairmen, one from each Congressional district, was also reported and agreed to.

James E. Morrison was chosen Reading Secretary; Thomas F. Gilroy, W. J. Kreischer, F. C. Schraub, Philo Backus, William S. Andrews and James M. Cook, Recording Secretaries, and a list of honorary Secretaries, one from each district.

Other permanent officers being agreed upon, Hon. D. Cady Herrick, from the Committee on resolutions, stated that the committee had been unable to complete its report, and requested to be allowed until ten o'clock to-morrow morning. There were murmurs of disappointment from all over the house.

Senator Ecclesine, of New York, moved that the convention proceed at once to the nomination of candidates for Governor and Lieutenant-Governor. The movers accepted an amendment striking out Lieutenant-Governor, and a motion was then made to still further amend, to the effect that the convention proceed to nominate candidates for Governor, and that the ballot thereon be postponed till to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock. A general dissent immediately went up, and there were cries of "No, no." Considerable discussion followed, it being claimed, on the one hand, that a t this time might cause dissension in making up the remainder of the ticket after the Governor, and on the other hand, that it was going to be easy to nominate the candidate for Governor to-night, thus giving till to-morrow to agree on the remainder of the ticket. Mr. Spinola then moved the previous question on the motion to ballot for Governor. There was a demand for ayes and noes on this motion, and the roll call was again gone through with. It resulted, yeas 240, noes 189. On the main question the demand for the ayes and noes was again made and again the call of the roll began. It was interrupted this time by several impatient Democrats, some moving to adjourn, and others to suspend the call and proceed to ballot. The chair ruled everything out of order except finishing the call. The main question was ordered by a vote of 270¼ ayes to 109¾ noes.

J. E. O'Connor, of Chemung, arose to nominate Gov. Hill, and as soon as he mentioned his name the convention burst forth in wild yells and cries of "He's our next Governor."

Mr. O'Conner spoke baiedly in naming his candidate for first place on the ticket. The nomination was seconded by Daniel Lockwood, of Buffalo, Senator Ecclesine and Bourke Cochrane, of New York, and several others. Col. J. R. Fellows, for the county Democracy of New York, nominated Abram S. Hewitt, saying, however, in the course of his remarks, that he knew there was no chance for his nomination by the convention. A ballot was then taken. The county Democracy voted for Hewitt, and he got a few other scattering votes. The result was announced as follows: Total votes cast, 389; necessary for choice, 191. Hill 338, Hewitt 33, Cleveland 1, Tilden 1, Flower 1. The result was received with a great demonstration of applause, and shortly after midnight the convention adjourned till 11 o'clock tomorrow morning.

THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINEE.

David B Hill, of Elmira, the Democratic candidate for Governor of New York, was born in Havana, Schuyler (then Chemung) county, on August 29, 1843, and received his early education in that town. In 1870 he was elected to the State Assembly, and in 1871 he was re-elected. He served one term as Alderman in the Elmira Common Council, and at the expiration of his term in 1882 he was elected Mayor of the city. In September, 1882, he was nominated for Lieutenant-Governor on the Democratic State ticket and was elected. Governor Cleveland having resigned the Presidency in 1884 raised Mr. Hill to the Governorship. For a number of years Mr. Hill was proprietor of the Elmira Gazette. The Governor is a bachelor.

A DISCIPLE OF CLEVELAND.

NEW YORK, Sept. 25.--The World will say editorially to-morrow: In State politics Governor Hill is a disciple of President Cleveland. He trained under Cleveland as his Lieutenant for two years, while the latter was Governor, and with few exceptions he has carried out Mr. Cleveland's policy while acting as his successor. In the election of 1882 when Mr. Hill was elected Lieutenant Governor, his majority was 196,781, being 4,000 larger than that of his chief.

GENERAL CASE ACCEPTS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.--An Albany special says General Carr, the Republican nominee for Lieutenant-Governor, about whose acceptance there was some doubt in view of his public declaration before the convention, has decided to accept.

COLORADO REPUBLICANS.

A Judicial Convention Assembled at Denver.

DENVER, Col., Sept. 24.--The Republican State Judicial Convention this afternoon nominated Hon. Samuel H. Eibert, of Denver, for Judge of the Supreme Court. A series of resolutions was adopted congratulating the party on the death of factionalism in Colorado; endorsing the resolutions of the silver convention held in Denver in January last; deprecating the importation of contract labor; declaring in favor of arbitration to settle disputes between capital and labor, and insisting on a strict enforcement of civil service laws. Ex-Secretary Teller was present and addressed the convention on the silver question, advocating its free unlimited coinage. In the course of his remarks he referred to his administration of the Interior Department, inviting a most searching investigation. He defied partisan hate or personal bitterness to show a single instance in which the affairs of the department were not administered with honesty and justice.

A notable feature of the proceedings of the convention was the entire absence of factional feeling, the party leaders in their speeches pledging themselves to work together harmoniously henceforth for the success of the party in Colorado.

An Old Case on Trial.

JACKSON, Cal. Sept. 24.--The trial of Garrett Cavanaugh for the murder of J. B. Hodgdon on the 14th of August last, was concluded last night. The jury disagreed, six being for acquittal and six for conviction. The defendant is 80 years old. People in the neighborhood sympathize with him to the extent of subscribing funds for his defence.

FRUIT GROWERS

They Hold a Convention to Discuss the Shipment and Marketing of Their Products.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.--The convention of fruit growers in the Chamber of Commerce to-day was the most largely attended one held in the State. The object of the meeting was to consider the question of fruit shipments East, and the best way to promote the sale of fruit east of the mountains, which involves the question of freight rates and the manner of shipment. Professor Hilgard, President of the State Horticultural Society, was elected chairman; E. J. Wickson was elected secretary. M. M. Estee, of Napa; Mr. Block, of Santa Clara; Mr. Hatch, of Solano; Abbott Kinney, of Los Angeles; Mr. Livermore, of Sacramento, and W. H. Dapper, of Sonoma, were elected vice-presidents.

Mr. Trumbull offered a resolution that a central State organization be formed for the purpose of buying, selling and shipping fruits, and a second resolution calling for the election of a committee of seven to formulate a plan and report to the convention. Mr. Aiken received the report of the committee appointed at last year's meeting, which referred particularly to the increased shipment of fruit East consequent upon a reduction in freights made by the railroad company.

Larkin, of Sacramento, claimed that shippers should have the privilege of shipping a half or quarter of a carload at one time; that only the very largest growers were in a position to ship a full carload at one time.

Aiken offered a resolution that it be recommended that county fruit-growers shipping companies and a State shipping company be formed, the county companies to be stockholders, and directors to be elected by the county organizations. The resolutions were referred to the Committee on Resolutions.

M. M. Estee thought it would not be practicable to run little county organizations. He was in favor of a State organization in which the holding of stock shall be limited.

Senator Stanford was invited the speak, and said he thought that the fruit and wine interests of the State were great interests. If these interests are to prosper, there must be an organization, and only an organization that will inspire confidence in every fruit-grower. He thought that producers could organize and have fruit sent to certain cities, but that after it can be graded and shipped to distributing agents, where it can be distributed to every little grocery, these agents should have no interest in grading or selling for the benefit of one man more than another. He said that the question of organization should be considered by the convention. The price of our fruit in the East had always been too high and, at the present time, the price of freight at $600 per car is a very small item. He was of the opinion that the foothill country was an admirable fruit-growing as the Santa Clara belt, and that the area in which fruit can be raised is immense.

Mr. Estee said that what was necessary was an agent who should keep track of shipments so that a market in a certain locality need not be ruined by excessive supply.

Abbott Kinney offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is the sense of this meeting that no organization or person should receive rates or privileges that will operate to force individuals to belong to or ship through any such organization or person. We believe that rates on fruit shipments should be reasonable, public and equal for all.

The committee appointed to report on the best plan to meet the requirements of the case recommended the creation of an incorporated company under the control of a Board of Directors, with a capital of $100,000, in 100,000 shares of $1 each. The committee further recommended that fruit growers have the privilege of subscribing for as many shares as they had acres of bearing orchard or of matured vines. The proposition was discussed until 5:30, when an adjournment was taken until to-morrow at 9:30 a. m.

SAN FRANCISCO.

The Auditor Will Resist the Raise --Other News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.--It is rumored that the Auditor of the city and county of San Francisco will resist the increase of 13¼ per cent. made on the assessment roll by the State Board of Equalization.

THEY THREW VITRIOL.

May and Lizzie Jackson, aged 18 and 20 respectively, were arrested this afternoon charged with having entered the room of John Doe, a bank clerk, on Monday last and throwing vitriol in his face. Doe's wife had been absent in the East for the last two years. Shortly after her departure he became intimate with Miss Jackson. When he deserted her she determined on the revenge of disfiguring him for life. He will probably recover his eyesight but his face is terribly burned. Both girls (one as the accomplice of the other) are charged with felony, with bail fixed at $5000.

[The TIMES has been requested by telegraph, to suppress the name of the man in the above item, but a stern sense of duty impels us to tell the truth though the heavens fall. The vitrolian gall of the friends of the Doe family in making such a request is worthy a prize. We suppress nothing. ED. TIMES.]

WHEAT CALCULATIONS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24.--Shippers have begun to figure on the amount of Pacific Coast wheat there will be for export. A statement was sent to England two weeks ago that the quantity would not exceed 450,000 tons, or say 14,500,000 bushels. Conservative dealers unhesitatingly state that this estimate is entirely erroneous. They figure as follows: This year's crop is 23,000,000 bushels; carry over from last year, 10,000,000; total quantity of wheat in California and Oregon at the present time, 33,000,000 bushels. Deduct what is required for local uses and seeding and there will remain 805,000 tons, or say, 26,000,000 bushels, available for export. This includes Oregon wheat, estimated at 2,000,000 bushels for export. As much of the California grain is still in the field, no one has any positive knowledge of the actual quantity on hand.

THE CHIEF JUDGE.

Judge Clough, in a letter to-day addressed to Judge Lawler, presiding Judge of the Superior Court, says that he has not resigned his position as Judge, Mr. Levy's appointment is wholly "unauthorized and void."

ENGLAND.

A Great Liberal Meeting--No Taffy Wanted for the Royal Family.

LONDON, Sept. 24.--An immense popular meeting was held here to-night, at which orations were delivered by Bradlaugh, Morely, Chamberlain and others. The hall in which the meeting proper was held was packed by an audience of 7,000 persons, and outside of the building fully 2,000 more were assembled. The utmost good humor prevailed. Chamberlain was twenty minutes in getting through the crowd. He made a slashing election speech, the only new and important point in which was his vehement declaration that he would never become a member of a Cabinet which did not adopt reform measures, including reform taxation laws, free elementary education and the acquisition of land by local authorities in order to create small tenants.

One of the features of the evening was Newman Hall's fulsome reference to the royal family. His remarks brought forth a storm of derision which lasted fully five minutes.

Have the Courts Jurisdiction Over a Department of the Government?--Political News from the National Capital.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.--The Secretary of the Treasury to-day sent a letter to District Attorney Dorsheimer, at New York, in regard to the examination of passengers' baggage. He says in part: "In March last and immediately on taking charge of this department, I directed the attention of the Collector at the port to the examination of baggage, and proclaimed the union of the Collector at the port Secretary of the Department of the Navy, which is beyond the jurisdiction of this court and the judicial power of the United States to restrain, or otherwise interfere with the execution of said powers and duties of the government of the United States, as this said defendant is ready to verify. Wherefore he prays judgment, whether this court can or will take further cognizance of said petition and proceedings.

THE FRENCH'S CARBONS SAFE.

The Treasury Department is informed that the United States steamers Swatara and Yantic, having aboard $10,400,000 in silver coin, have entered Chesapeake Bay and will probably arrive at Washington to-morrow. The coin will be transferred from the navy yard to the Treasury Department by Adams Express Company's wagons, which will be guarded by United States marines.

CABINET MEETING.

Secretary Lamar and Attorney-General Garland were the only absentees at the Cabinet meeting to-day.

EATON'S SUCCESSOR.

There is much interest in the probable successor to Dorman B. Eaton, Civil Service Commissioner. The names most prominently mentioned have been those of E. O. Graves, Superintendent of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, Mr. Fairchild and Mr. Coon, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

COMMODORE SEMMES SUBSIDIED.

The National Republican to-morrow will publish a special from Hamilton, Va., saying that Commodore Raphael Semmes, Commandant of the Washington navy yard, whose death was announced on Tuesday last, committed suicide while laboring under a temporary mental aberration of mind, caused by malarial troubles, from which he had been suffering for some time.

THE BLAND BILL.

Congressman Warner Thinks He Has a Substitute That Takes Away the Veto Power.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.--Congressman Warner, of Ohio, was asked yesterday if he thought the Bland bill could be repealed, without a substitute being provided therefor. In response, Mr. Warner said: "I do not believe it can, and I will say more: I don't believe it ought to be. This is not a mere question of coining a few millions of dollars more or less, but it is a question of maintaining a true monometallism. The present coinage law is the only thread by which silver is held in our monetary system. Strike this law down, without any substitute, and bimetallism is overthrown. The silver men understand this perfectly well. To the bimetalist, a change in the standard from both metals to one, in the face of the vast indebtedness that now weighs down modern nations, seems to be nothing less than a stupendous crime. I will introduce my bill, which is intended as a substitute for the Bland bill, as soon as the assembling of Congress. It will be opposed by the extreme gold and the extreme silver men, but I believe there are enough men who favor my proposition to carry it through the House. I think all will agree that such a bill will effect a more permanent settlement of the vexed question than would a change in the weight of coins, and no doubt a permanent settlement of that important matter will lead to an immediate and lasting revival of business throughout the country."

A YOUTHFUL CASE

Of Ravishing and Murder in Ohio.

MANSFIELD, O., Sept. 24.--The mystery surrounding the death of Clara Huff, whose mutilated remains were found in a ravine near here yesterday, was partially cleared to-day by the arrest of two boys named James Winans and John Cramer, neither of them over 16 years old. A thorough investigation was instituted today, and suspicious actions of the boys led to their arrest. They strongly asserted their innocence, but finally confessed that the murderer was a companion about the same age. They stated that he made a criminal assault on Miss Huff, but she resisted him so that he was compelled to shoot her to get away. The boys say they were fully half a mile from the scene, but heard the pistol shot. The girl screamed several times. The name of the young man is withheld by the police, who have a number of clues which will likely lead to his arrest. The statement over the brutal murder has not subsided.

Rolling Mill Shuts Down.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 24.--The Cleveland Rolling Mill Company made a complete hault down at noon to-day, and all the men will go to work at wages paid before the reduction. The following notice has just been sent to Newburg to be read to the men:

At a meeting of the wire manufacturers, just held in New York, prices were advanced, and, in accordance with promises made, please notify the men that their new prices are ruduced from the date to all descriptions.

THE SHEWS OF WAR.

A Plan to Back up the Irish Cause with American Funds.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.--There appears to be no foundation for the report that Parnell's supporters in this country are divided in Irish politics because of differences in American politics. This week's Boston Pilot, the leading Irish Democratic paper in the United States, published an interview with Alexander Sullivan, one of Blaine's leading supporters. Sullivan formulates a plan for raising $225,000 at the January convention of the Irish National League of America, to enable Parnell to guarantee ninety members $100 each annually for five years. The constituencies will do the rest necessary to compensate members. This much raised by the American organization, Sullivan suggests that Rev. Dr. O'Reilly, American Treasurer of the League, and Eugene Kelly, a New York banker, be made trustees of this fund "until the Parnell of the United States, subject to Parnell's order, so that the English government can never levy on it. His plan was approved by the Chicago Convention apportion to each State its share of the sum; then the State work will be divided and the responsibility equalized, the plan being all put on the executive officers, as at present. Boyle O'Reilly editorially says: Sullivan's programme is a good one, and the Irish-Americans are one in Irish affairs. There appears to be extraordinary activity throughout the country in raising funds for Parnell. The Sullivan plan suggested by O'Reilly contemplates all funds raised before January to betray the election of Parnellites, and the several sums to be raised subsequently as a basis of members' salaries.

CENTRAL AMERICA.

A Dubious Announcement of Peace and What Followed.

PANAMA, Sept. 24.--An extra number of the Official Gazette has been published by order of General Montuya, announcing the complete subjection of the rebels and the restoration of peace throughout the republic. At the same time, early in the morning of the 5th a collision took place in the quarter of Panama known as "La Calidonia," between a force of police and a remnant of the old forces of General Alfaro. The leader of the rioters was a Mexican named Sandoval and his followers comprised many of those who were exiled some time ago to Guayaquil. Several policemen and several rebels were badly wounded. A number of arrests were made, but the body of the rebels escaped. The Ecuadorian consul in this city yesterday received a dispatch from Guyaquil, saying that a complete victory had been obtained.

THE CHOLERA.

Reports from Spain Showing Decreased Mortality.

MADRID, Sept. 24.--There were 589 new cases of cholera and 236 deaths from the disease reported yesterday throughout Spain.

IN FRANCE.

PARIS, Sept. 24.--Cholera has appeared at Saint Quenmy Reine, a village four miles south of Paris. The disease is not of the extremely virulent type. Deaths, so far, have been among children only; adults recovering in every case.

IN ITALY.

ROME, Sept. 24.--During the past twenty-four hours eight new cases of cholera and five deaths were reported in Parma; one new case and one death in Ferara; three new cases and one death in Massa l' Carrara, and two new cases in Rovigo.

Pleuro-Pneumonia.

FALMOUTH, Sept. 24.--Pleuro-Pneumonia having been discovered at adjoining the cattle of David Brancock, several days ago, and no effectual means having taken to destroy the disease, several neighbors collected, slaughtered the diseased cattle and burned their carcasses. Fourteen cattle were disposed of in this way.

THE BULGARIAN UNION.

The Porte Awaiting the Action of the Signatory Powers.

PHILLIPOPOLIS, Sept. 24.--Prince Alexander, accompanied by his staff, met the Bulgarian cavalry on the outskirts of the city, and, placing himself at the head of the column, entered the town amidst much enthusiasm, the people cheering. The Prince immediately afterwards started for the frontier to inspect the troops stationed there. A large number of horses are continually arriving here, for the use of troops, as a result of the recent requisition or voluntary offerings from the inhabitants. Everything points to active preparations for a defensive campaign. A number of committees of ladies are working hard making clothing for the soldiers.

APPROVED HIS ACTION.

SOFIA, Sept. 24.--The National Assembly of Bulgaria has unanimously approved of Prince Alexander's action, and proclaimed the union of the two Bulgarias.

The Parliament has voted 45,000.00 for the purpose of carrying out the sixty programme between Roumelia and Bulgaria, and has adopted a resolution petitioning the Czar to allow the Russian officers of the Bulgarian army to remain in the service.

Army Reunions.

The ninth annual reunion of the Army of West Virginia was held at Portsmouth, Ohio, September 17th (the twenty-second anniversary of the battle of Antietam) in a large tent, accommodating 10,000 persons. General R. B. Hayes, in the absence of General Crook, the President, presided, and made a speech reciting the achievements of the army in its arduous mountain campaigns upon an important, though remote, field of action. Among those present were Colonel Turley, Ninety-first Ohio, Mayor of Portsmouth; General W. H. Powell, Second Virginia Cavalry; General Nathan Goff, ex-Secretary of the Navy; General R. P. Kennedy, Twenty-third Ohio (ours); General R. B. Brown, Major J. W. Longbron, and many other members of the gallant old command, besides a host of Grand Army men who came in from the surrounding posts. A resolution of condolence and sympathy to the family of General Grant was passed, and many short addresses were made by comrades. It was a good time the old boys had, and he who writes this is sorry he was not with them. A society badge, devised by a committee previously appointed, consisting of General George Crook, General R. B. Hayes, Captain E. E. Ewing. Captain E. S. Wilson and Colonel Henry J. Johnson, was adopted. The badge was described in the committee's report:

The principal feature of our badge is an eagle. This was adopted as the insignia of the Army of West Virginia by order of Major-General Crook, in 1864. For department headquarters the eagle was gold; for division headquarters, silver; for enlisted men of the First Division, red; Second Division, white; Third Division, blue. The several arms of the service were designated by blue, yellow, or red ribbon.

Our badge presents the three colors of the service, i. e., the blue of the infantry; the yellow of the cavalry; the red of the artillery. Our eagle differs from the one of the army headquarters —that was a spread eagle; this has drooping wings, typical of the peace over which it keeps watch and ward. The six-pointed star in the blue field refers to the Eighth Army Corps, with which the Army of West Virginia was for a time merged. The legend on the bar gives the name of our society.

The fifth annual reunion of the Iron Brigade Association closed at Madison, Wis., on the afternoon of September 17th. The bean banquet tendered by the citizens of Madison was held on the State fair grounds, where 800 people, including 400 members of the Iron Brigade, feasted on the festive bean. David Atwood presided, and toasts and responses were made as follows: "Our Country," General E. S. Bragg; "The President of the United States," Lloyd G. Harris, of St. Louis; "The Iron Brigade," J. C. Gregory, of Madison; "Our Dead," General Phillip Cheek, of Madison; "Loyal Women of the War," Colonel J. A. Watrous, of Milwaukee; "Citizen Soldiers," General Lucius Fairchild of Madison. Gov. Rusk was called upon and made one of the most exciting speeches ever heard from his lips. In touching upon the cruelty which Union soldiers suffered in Southern prisons during the war, he became violently incensed, and in thundering voice, which fairly trembled with passion, exclaimed, "When I think of the inhuman treatment our men received in these Southern hells, I want to go in and clean out the entire devilish fraternity of those who had anything to do with their treatment." The assembled veterans arose as one man, with tears in their eyes, and echoed the sentiment with thunders of applause, such as had not been heard at any meeting in years. These are things not to be forgotten. It would be unnatural, ungrateful and unpatriotic to forget them.

The Iron Brigade has a proud record. On the 5th of October, 1862, General Gibbon, commanding the brigade, wrote as follows:

"To show you that my estimate of the brigade is not an imaginary one, I will mention one fact: After the battle of the 17th it was found that there were an immense number of stragglers (in the army at large), many of whom had no doubt run away from battle. A return was called for on the 18th, and again on the 23d, and it was found that our corps had nearly doubled in number in those four days. I required a comparative statement to be made and all increase to be accounted for. It was found that my brigade had increased about eighty men, and every one of those were returned from detached service and hospitals, so that I had no stragglers." The boys are justly proud of their record as fighters.

The Society of the Army of the Cumberland held its seventeenth annual reunion in Grand Rapids, Mich., September 16th and 17th. There were about 500 members of the society in attendance, among them General P. H. Sheridan, President of the society; General Fullerton and General Swayne. A movement looking to the perpetuation of the society through the admission to membership of sons or relatives of its original members was projected. The Sons of Veterans also held their fourth annual national encampment at Grand Rapids.

It is said that rich gold deposits have been found on the Chinese side of the Amoor river and that there is a rush to the spot much like that of '49 in California. The region is a most inhospitable one, and heretofore it has been regarded as a punishment worse than death to be banished there. But if gold is to be found, why, that makes a difference, of course. The trouble now will be to keep back the rush.

FORCING silver into circulation has not a favorable effect on its price. It has gone down steadily of late until there is a panic in the market. The quotations for last week in London were lower than ever before in this century.

"John's" Impressions of "Melican Man's Josh."

Eastern journals are stirred up somewhat over the "startling discovery made by the Coroner of San Francisco," who is a great humbug. They are beginning to discover that the Chinaman is not the most desirable element to be mingled with our American civilization, and that the people of this coast have had some just reason for objecting to the hordes of heathen that have been thrust upon our shores. Philanthropic and missionary spirits have seen in their coming the hand of Providence bringing them here to be christianized and enlightened. But the Chinaman upon his native soil is more easily reached and influenced by missionary labor than is the Chinaman in America. The Chinaman is quick to see, and the christianity of the masses, in this so-called christian land, does not impress him favorably in the direction of christianity. He does not always discern the difference between nominal and actual christianity, and therefore has somewhat confused ideas in regard to its tendencies. A christianity that would lead to or sanction a Wyoming massacre, he doesn't relish or desire, and in a mob that will attack him when defenseless and drive him out from his home, he does not see anything superior to his own heathenish practices. The work of regenerating China had better not be brought to our shores with the hope of any greater success in the process of evangelization than could be obtained on his own shores. We can only lawfully abide by the compact which we have made with the Chinese government, and make the best of the ratification until such time as we can satisfactorily and honorably remedy it.

A VETERAN'S REPLY.

About the Disposition of Appointments by Collector Ellis.

Our San Francisco Evening Post.]

With no little astonishment, I read in your paper of Saturday Collector Ellis's reply to a charge preferred by one of your correspondents, charging him with discriminating against Union soldiers. Mr. Ellis's communication is quite remarkable in many ways. It does not state facts, and I am unable to discern what misconception could have induced the Collector to wander so far from the truth. Without attempting a review of the glaring perversions of fact in Mr. Ellis's "reply," permit me to state the circumstances just as they are, and as they may be readily verified by any one concerned to do so.

It is a fact that four veterans have been changed in the Collector's force of clerks and deputies, namely, Colonel Cooley, Captain Wate, A. F. Learned and E. J. Platt. Only one old soldier has been retained, Captain Youngberg, and he remains under a written contract for a year, Mr. Ellis fearing to undertake to conduct the office without some experienced help, and positively refusing to make the contract for two years. As the Collector expressed it, if he retained no one familiar with the office work he might "put his bondsmen in a box." Is not this discrimination against old Union soldiers.

Now, let us look at Mr. Ellis's talk about the veterans who "resigned of their own will." I believe E. J. Platt, a messenger in the office, was the first to "resign." Mr. Ellis approached him one day with a demand that he should furnish bonds in $20,000, with three sureties to qualify in that sum! This announcement completely paralyzed Platt, and he did all he could under the circumstances to "resign of his own will." Ellis promised the place to "Long John" Wilkins, but while John was looking for bondsmen, gave it to another.

Then Frank Ellis called on Deputy Collectors Wate and Learned and remarked that "father wants your place for a good Democrat next Monday." So two more old soldiers "resigned of their own will."

Colonel Cooley was called upon to instruct his successor for a period of about three months, with the condition attached that he should divide his salary for that time with the new man. Very properly Colonel Cooley declined the cool proposition, although he did offer to break in his successor in thirty days for the full salary. Collector Ellis would not listen to this, and Colonel Cooley "resigned of his own will."

With regard to the gaugers and storekeepers, Mr. Ellis has not, I believe, removed them yet. But that is not his fault, for he cannot do so. That is the business of the Secretary of the Treasury, who appoints them on the recommendation of Mr. Ellis, but not until they have acquired a thorough knowledge of the duties required of them. However, I am credibly informed that the Collector has a force in training, whom he has recommended for the places of those whom he boasts of retaining.

Mr. Ellis says that he sympathizes with Confederate soldiers, because, unlike their Union brethren, they are denied pensions. It is a pity that his tender sympathy cannot have full swing, but the oath required of appointees in his department is a bar to his pathetic gush: "I do solemnly swear that I have never voluntarily borne arms against the government of the United States since I have been a citizen thereof; that I have given no aid, counsel, countenance or encouragement to persons engaged in armed hostilities thereto," etc.

President Cleveland and Collector Asa Ellis do not agree on the soldier question. The President has said that, other things being equal, preference should be given to the Union soldiers in the matter of appointments to public office. But Mr. Ellis' sympathy lies the other way.

I have stated only facts that are incontrovertible, and submit them in the hope that you will do the fair thing by publishing them. ONE WHO KNOWS.

LONG BEACH WATER.

An Analysis from the State University.

General Edwin Ward sends the TIMES the following analysis of artesian well water from Long Beach:

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, COLLEGE OF AGRICULTURE, MISSION SAN JOSE, BERKELEY, Aug. 17, 1885.—To Gen. H. Honebrake —DEAR SIR: I enclose herewith the report of my assistant, Mr. Geo. E. Colby, of the examination of your company's artesian water. So far as the mineral ingredients go the water is a surprisingly pure one, as it contains only about five grains of these, of the general character of the salts of sea-water. Few river waters contain so little. And there is no reason why the water should not be recommended for all uses except the ammonia shown in the report. The small amount found may have been due to imperfect cleaning of the bottle or an old cork used. The next sample should be put up in specially cleaned demijohns with a new cork.

Very respectfully, E. W. HILGARD.

I beg to explain that I took the samples referred to from the wells, 200 feet deep. It is true I used two ammonia bottles which I quite thought had been properly cleansed. The water, therefore, is good and pure, as shown by the professional scientific analysis appended beneath my signature herewith.

EDWIN WARD.

The following is an analysis of artesian water from Long Beach as made by me, GEO. E. COLBY:

	Grains.
Total solid contents per gallon.....	6.425
Again soluble after evaporation.....	2.921
Insoluble after evaporation.....	1.752
Organic matter and combined water	1.752

The soluble part consists of chlorides of magnesia and sodium, with traces of lime, sulphuric acid and potassium.

The insoluble part is mostly carbonate of lime; silica and carbonate of magnesia being very small.

In addition to the above ingredients, the water had about two-tenths of a milligramme of ammonia per litre.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

WILMINGTON.

WORK ON THE W. AND L. B. R. R.—GENERAL NOTES.

[Correspondence of the TIMES.]

WILMINGTON, Sept. 24.—Grading the road-bed of the W. and L. B. R. R. is progressing favorably with a large force of men and teams. It takes six mules and three men to run a furrow through the "stubborn glebe"—one man to push the mules, one to hold the plow and the other to "ride on the beam." It is expected the cars will be running "before the snow flies."

Mr. E. N. McDonald is moving his cottage from the foot of Canal street to the old schoolhouse site, recently purchased by him, and he is going to fit it up in handsome style for two of our lady teachers to keep "bachelors' hall" in. We believe that we have some of the best teachers in the county, and we are bound to make them comfortable, even if we have to move a few houses in order to do it.

Our worthy postmaster still "holds the fort" by a large majority, having recently received his reappointment from Washington.

Monday was a hot day here, but we did not quite come up to the figures in Los Angeles.

The chancel windows for the Episcopal Church here, which have been on exhibition as genuine works of art in the Mechanics' Fair in San Francisco, are expected soon. They are from the art glass works of John Mallon, of San Francisco, and Mrs. [General Banning is the generous donor of them to the church.

Wilmington has an industrious and ingenious lad in the person of Jimmy Eastman, who has dug a well on his mother's premises, made a windmill, tank, etc., all by his self, excepting the iron work. It works well and does the boy proud.

Rev. Mr. Bailey, of the M. E. Church South, and who is now stationed at San Luis Obispo, is home again to spend a few days under the ancestral roof tree.

Our Episcopal parson evidently thinks the average Wilmingtonian incapable of properly digesting two sermons per Sunday, as he has hunted up another preaching place somewhere between here and the city, and he now preaches to us but once a day, and the same at San Pedro, alternating regularly between the two places morning and evening every Sunday.

Jesse Coles is talking of returning to Los Angeles to reside. He finds the sea air too bracing for him in his feeble health. This will leave one of the finest pieces of property in town for sale, and which should not long remain without a buyer.

A picnic for the Episcopal Sunday school is on the tapis for next Saturday at Long Beach.

Amusements are rather scarce in this place of late. The last was a circus booked for the 13th, which did not "pan out" very well for the managers, as most of our people prefer churchgoing on Sunday to a circus. SUB.

FLORENCE.

GRAPE CROP—HOT WEATHER—PERSONALS.

[Correspondence of the TIMES.]

FLORENCE, Sept. 24.—It was very hot on last Monday, ranging from about 107° to 110° within the radius of about five miles in this vicinity. The breeze which blew strongly in the afternoon was very warm, but aside from the dust it "kicked up," caused the temperature to be more agreeable than the extreme heat in the forenoon. No Eastern sunstrokes claim any share in this climate, however.

Rev. Mr. Crum preached his first sermon last Sunday to his new hearers at the M. E. Church in Florence. Several members of one family at Tajauta have lately united with the church on probation. They are gladly welcomed.

There has been some commotion around about the Florence postoffice lately, but it is hoped that there was more smoke than fire, and that the latter will die out if no more fuel is added to it. Sometimes the agitation of mixed up affairs, if persisted in, causes far from soothing effects.

It is hoped by respectable people that the late action of the Los Angeles City Council will check the nefarious liquor traffic in the Angel City, but we want none of the blood-suckers driven out here in the country to "set up shop."

Henry Thatcher, of Florence, has met with poor success with his threshing operations this season.

Fred Turner brags on his ten-pound daughter.

It is estimated that the McPherson Brothers, of Orange, will have taken about 400 tons of Muscat grapes from about eight different vineyards in the vicinity of Florence this season. They are picked in shallow trays 3x4 feet and placed on a flat car to the number of 240, one above the other. This mode of packing grapes for transportation, even a long distance, proves a success. About twenty men are employed, fifteen of whom by G. W. Juden, of this place, on a contract. All the expenses are paid by the buyers, excepting the delivery on the cars at the Florence station, for which $1 per ton is allowed. $16 per ton is the gross price received by the vineyardists. George Nadeau is drying his own grapes for raisins. R. Nadeau is squeezing his out from his immense vineyard into wine.

Now, Mr. Editor, please don't tell everbody you see that J. F. Cook is building a new barn, for that would be decidedly preposterous. J. F. C.

Erythroxylon.
(What is it?)

The United States Dispensatory, the standard guide of the druggists' faith and practice, will tell you that it is a shrub, a native of South America, that the leaves are good nerve stimulants and that in the absence of bad they will support the strength for a considerable time.

It is infinitely more than this combined with other valuable agents as it is in Compound Coca Cordial it forms the greatest remedy ever offered for the cure of Consumption and all diseases of the throat and lungs. This statement we are willing to establish by refunding the purchase money to anyone who, after taking one bottle in accordance with the directions, has not received the benefit we claim. We leave the matter entirely to the judgment and conscience of the patient. Davis & Widber, Druggists. No. 19 South Spring street, Los Angeles.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

Stocks and Bonds.
By Telegraph to The Times.

NEW YORK, Sept. 24.—Government bonds dull and steady.

Although the total sales of stock were little more loading than on two or three other dull days during the past month, business was activeless and uninteresting as any day this summer. The trading was confined to Board-room trading. Fluctuations today in no case, except Louisville Nashville, amounted to as much as one per cent. The general list touched the highest figures either at the opening or before noday. There was a little show of activity in the morning, which subsided before 12 o'clock. In the afternoon business was extremely dull, with a sagging tendency. The lowest prices were made late in the afternoon. The final quotations, however, are a shade higher than the bottom figures. Union Pacific is down ¼ and the Market closed dull and barely steady.

Money easy, 1@1½.
Prime paper, 6@8.
Exchange bills dull and unchanged.

San Francisco Market Report.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 23.

WHEAT—The market developed a sharp turn for the better this morning. Shippers were liberal buyers at $1 42½ @ 43¾, which is the governing price at the moment for the choicer class of export grades. Sales to the extent of 1500 tons were verified at this figure. An advance of sixpence at Liverpool on cargoes just shipped and nearly due may be assigned as one reason for the improvement in local circles, while the surprisingly small amount of wheat in the State available for export will, perhaps, have further influence in inducing a yet stronger tone to the situation as to very distant period.

BARLEY—Values are generally strong-er, being quotable at $1 27½@ 40 for good feeding; steady at $1 37½@1 40 for good quality, with an advance obtainable for choice parcels. Business in Chevalier is light at $1 27½@1 45 ₹ ctl, the latter being a full figure.

OATS—We quote: Surprise and milling, $1 30@1 50; No. 1, $1 12½@1 15; common grades, 90c@1 10 ₹ ctl.

CORN—Continues slow of movement. Offerings are free. California is quotable at $1 30@1 35 for Yellow and $1 15@1 17½ ₹ ctl for White. Nominal, $1 17½@1 20 ₹ ctl.

RYE—Values moderately firm. We quote: Alfalfa, 1½@2; Wheat, 1½@2; Oat, 1½@1; Barley, 1½@1½; Mixed, 1½@1½ ton.

HOPS—There is some little trade in progress, and prices are steadying. Quotable at 6c@9c ₹ lb.

FRUIT—Berries keep uniform in price, varieties changed hands to-day as follows: Grapes sell well, there being a fair demand for shipment. Plums are neglected. We quote as follows: Wine grapes, $15@25 ₹ ton; Watermelons, $5@8 ₹ hundred; Cantaloupes, 50c@1 25 ₹ crate; Prunes, 10@25c ₹ basket, and 30@75c ₹ box; Grapes, 40@60c ₹ box for ordinary description, and 60@75c for choice; Tuscarora Raspberries, $6@10 ₹ chest; Strawberries, $5@8 ₹ chest; Plums, 25@50c ₹ box; German Prunes, 40@75c ₹ box; Blackberries, 40@50c ₹ box; Peaches, 40@50c ₹ box; Figs, 30@40c ₹ box; Apples 25@75c ₹ box; Pears, 30@40c ₹ box; Bartlett do, $1 75@2 50 ₹ box; Mexican Limes, $10@12; Lemons, scarce, $9 00@10 00; do, California, $1 50@2 00 ₹ box for ordinary, and $3 00@4 00 for choice fruit.

HOME MANUFACTURES.
Local Announcements of Leading Los Angeles Industries.
WHERE TO PURCHASE HOMEMADE GOODS
Notes Among the Foundries, Factories and Other Industrial Establishments—Encouraging Reports—What They Are Doing and What They Can Offer.

The TIMES publishes the following review of a portion of our local industries for the benefit of those who wish to patronize home manufactured goods. The list will be enlarged:

M. S. Baker & Co.'s Foundry.

This is one of the most important manufactories in Southern California, employing a large number of hands. The works are located at the corner of Second and Main streets, and manufacture agricultural machinery, mining machinery, oil boring tools, grain crushers, wine machinery, etc. They have made many fine improvements during the past few months including the moving of their machinery into rear buildings, and fitting up their two brick stores in front for sales rooms. They have also put in a new and fine automatic engine, which works to perfection. They are making a great success of their mining machinery, having received many large orders. It has been thoroughly demonstrated that their prices are as low as can be obtained in San Francisco, which accounts for their rapidly growing business. Before purchasing any machinery be sure and call on M. S. Baker & Co.

Fence Factory—The A B C Fence

One of the most successful of the recent local manufacturing enterprises of Los Angeles is the A B C fence factory, No. 230 First street, J. L. Wheeler, proprietor. This fence is the cheapest in the market, and at the same time is very effective. It is composed of laths and posts bound together with the strongest and best steel wire. The fence is proof against cattle and horses, dogs, wolves, chickens and rabbits. It is portable, will not injure cattle, is five times as strong as a board fence, lasts three times as long, saves every farmer who uses it from $100 to $200 a mile, and costs only $1 a rod. It is just the fence for Southern California, where fence material is expensive. It is now in use on hundreds of farms in this county. Call and see it before making a fence.

Los Angeles Cracker Company.

The Los Angeles Cracker Company, corner of Aliso street and Alameda, has entered upon its third year under most favorable auspices. All kinds of crackers and cakes are manufactured, and quality is now better than the best imported. The Cracker Company is a local enterprise which should have the support of every one. It is thoroughly deserving. Winter & Co. are the proprietors.

Excelsior Steam Laundry.

The Excelsior Steam Laundry, corner of Date and Mission streets, is a flourishing local enterprise. The proprietors are Messrs. Bayley & Fuqua. Mr. Fuqua is a practical laundry man, and his numerous advantages have secured it a very large patronage. No Chinese are employed. At considerable extra expense and sometimes inconvenience, the proprietors adhere to their rule to employ white labor only. Two delivery wagons run to all portions of the city and call for and deliver washing.

Los Angeles Soap Company.

The Los Angeles Soap Factory is one of the oldest manufacturing establishments in the southern portion of the State, having been started about a quarter of a century ago. It has been under the management of the present proprietors, Messrs. Forthman & Bergin, twelve years, and they have brought it up to a high standard. Their toilet and laundry soaps are famous all over the southern country, and their borax soap is pronounced by housekeepers superior. They deal in castile soda, soda, soda ash, potash, resin, tallow, hides, pelts, skins and wool. They also manufacture shale oil soap, which has been tried and used extensively by the most prominent fruit growers of Southern California, and has proved a most effectual insecticide. The office and works of the Soap Company are located at 40 to 62 Banning street and 307 First street.

Stern's Manufacturing Company

The Stern's Manufacturing Company is a recent and important enterprise. The company owns a large building (30x150) at the corner of Date and Mission streets, and manufactures the celebrated Stern's Excelsior wire tanks, hay presses, etc. The Regulator tank is the latest and most new one in use, excellent qualities, and it has proved a great success in Southern California. It is not affected easily in the lightest breeze, does not get out of order, and makes no noise while turning. A great many have already been sold in this county, and the company has a number of existing testimonials from leading Southern California farmers. The capacity of the manufactory is about 3,000 tanks a year. As a country where so much depends upon water, it is always best to get a thoroughly reliable mill, which the Regulator has proved to be.

Los Angeles Soda Works.

The Los Angeles Soda Works, H. W. Stoll & Co., proprietors, No. 107 Sanchez street, is one of the oldest manufactories in Los Angeles, having been in existence about four years. They manufacture soda water, sarsaparilla, ginger ale, mineral waters, champagne cider and all kinds of syrups. Their soda water, however, is the famous "Cream Soda," which for fine flavor has no equal. This soda is superior to any summer drink ever before introduced in Los Angeles, and the demand for it this season has been immense. Messrs. Stoll & Co. ship their goods to all portions of Southern California, and their business has grown rapidly. Orders from any part of the county will be promptly attended to and satisfaction guaranteed.

Climax Windmill.

The Climax windmill is the invention of J. B. Millard, a Los Angeles gentleman. It was patented December 9, 1884. The owner claims for it that it will run in a wind that is much stronger built, less complicated and more durable than any windmill now in the market. It is highly recommended by all who have tried it, including the Times reporter who has seen it in use. Mr. Millard also manufactures the Climax Iron Pump, which is a specialty, however, is the famous "Cream Soda," which for fine flavor has no equal. This soda is superior to any summer drink ever before introduced in Los Angeles, and the demand for it this season has been immense. Messrs. Stoll & Co. ship their goods to all portions of Southern California, and their business has grown rapidly. Orders from any part of the county will be promptly attended to and satisfaction guaranteed.

Los Angeles Rubber Stamp Company.

Rubber stamps have become a necessity in most business houses, and their usefulness is so great that the demand for them is constantly increasing. The Los Angeles Rubber Stamp Company, 36 N. Spring street, is the only manufactory of the kind in Southern California, and is now doing a large business. The firm manufactures printing wheels of all kinds, self-inkers, dating, pocket-daters, and has a large line of novelties in pocket stamps. All work is warranted, and any merchant desiring goods in this line will do well to address the company. Business men of Los Angeles now give nearly all their business to this firm, finding they can get better and cheaper work than in San Francisco, while it is fully equal to that done by the best Eastern houses.

Upholstery and Mattress Factory

The Los Angeles Upholstery and Mattress Factory is located at the corner of Seventh and Los Angeles street. The proprietor, John Schroeder, has long been in business in this city, and has built up a large trade. The factory turns out mattresses and upholstered work of every description, parlor sets, easy chairs, etc. The proprietor has special facilities for filling large orders for hotels, hospitals, asylums, etc. The special advantage in dealing with this house is satisfactory in that while just as good an article is furnished in the cheapest grades as in the best, there is every reason to will be found advantageous to send orders to this house.

Dome Manufactures.

Steam Carpet-Beating Company.

The Pioneer Steam Carpet-Beating Company, Seventh street, near Main, telephone No. 217, P. O. box 796, is owned by Robert Sharp & Co., the firm being Robert Sharp and A. H. Henning. The advantages of having over soiled and dusty carpets to this company are many, and much of the disagreeable work of the inevitable spring and autumn house-cleaning may be avoided. The method employed has many advantages, of which the principal are the thorough cleaning of the goods, no dust and dirt, moths, eggs and other vermin, and also the fact that it is a great saving in expense, amounting from ten to as much as 50 per cent. The success of the Steam Carpet-beating company has been gratifying, and they are entirely well deserving of the patronage of the public.

HIGH LICENSE.

An Expression of Public Opinion on the Subject.

THE BEST CITIZENS MOSTLY FOR IT

The Measure Expected to Elevate the Tone of Saloons by Freezing Out the Dog-geries and Deadfalls.

The most generally discussed question in the city, since Tuesday, has been the high-license ordinance passed by Council on that day. The liquor men, large and small, are mostly "agin'" the measure, though there are some exceptions, as H. J. Woollacott, J. Noel, and others, who believe it will raise the character of the business. A good many of the saloon men and some Democratic politicians are raving and tearing their hair over the matter, and already in their mind's eye see the city gone to the demnition bow-wows through the aforesaid ordinance. That the consensus of the better and ruling class of the population—the class which has given the city its enterprise and its progress, is not of so sombre a way of thinking, is a pretty plain proposition.

The following interviews by TIMES reporters yesterday index the feeling. They refer only to the liquor clause of the ordinance:

B. Cohn: I don't approve this form of restriction. A better plan would be, as I told Velsir when he consulted me about the ordinance, to pass an ordinance, in the interest of public morals, prohibiting more than one saloon to a block. That would weed out many of the worst saloons, which ought to be done, but in a less oppressive way. This high license seems to them an oppressive prohibition, and will directly force a great many out of business. The other plan, however, they could not complain of, for all they would have to do would be to move somewhere else; and if they had to go to a locality where they were starved out by lack of custom, they couldn't blame the city for that. We have only a limited number of policemen, and can't keep them all in a few localities, leaving the remainder of the city unguarded. The saloons should be made to spread out. The lower class of them are responsible for a great deal of crime. That one-to-a-block system would break up the dives in Sonoratown and other localities, and is the best plan I know of for regulating the matter.

A. J. Newton: My idea on the liquor question can be shunted into a nutshell. Prohibition is as futile as trying to make water run up hill. The best real temperance measure is extremely high license. I am strongly in favor of it.

H. N. Galloway: That's all right. I am in favor of it. The saloon men can stand it. There is no other business in the city wherein the rate per cent. of profit is so high as in that of the saloon-keeper.

E. E. Mosher: I am in favor of high license always—the higher the better.

C. H. Dunsmoor: I am always in favor of a high license. Never expect to see prohibition succeed.

F. B. Facing: It is a first-rate thing—will lead to the survival of the fittest, raise the character of saloons and thin out the dead falls. A man who can afford to pay that license cannot afford to let his place be a low, brawling resort.

Captain A. M. Thornton: I am decidedly in favor of it. It will shut up the low places—and it is the low places that keep the criminal machinery of the city and county busy. Since I have been in the Sheriff's office, and in fact during my whole residence here, I cannot remember any disturbance, fight or lawlessness in the higher grade of saloons. Now a man goes into Woollacott's, Bayer's, or one of those places, gets his drink and comes out. He has to behave there, and above all, he doesn't loaf. The harm is done and the crime is bred in these little doggeries where men go in and sit down, drink and play cards, play cards and drink, wasting their time, getting fuller and fuller the longer they sit. They get to arguing, then to quarreling, then to fighting, and perhaps the next thing one has a knife in him, or is robbed. The murders and murderous assaults we have to deal with come from these same sitting saloons. This high license will decrease their number.

M. Lewis, of Lewis Bros.: I don't believe in it. If we hadn't got so many Yankees in the Council lately it wouldn't have been done. I believe in licensing all of those dogs—gambling saloons, etc. It puts money into the pockets of the town.

George Hansen: The question with me is, Would the saloon men give better liquor? If the law could stop poor men from drinking it would be a good thing. But the danger in making the license too high is that it sets people to evading the law.

Len. J. Thompson: I think it is a good thing. Hope they'll raise it again. It does away with a lot of scrub places where they rob a man.

A. N. Hamilton: I am willing to pay double price on all the liquor I drink. The high license is a good thing.

J. H. Book: I think it is well. It will close up a great many of those low places that offer temptation to young men. I think one effect will be to throw the business into the hands of the more respectable element of saloon-keepers.

Judge Morgan: I'm opposed to it. High license is not going to stop any drinking. It is going to concentrate the business in a few hands. I am in favor of raising municipal taxes on real property.

Judge Kohler: It is not a good financial scheme. They will simply decrease their revenue, without benefiting the community.

A gentleman who did not want to be quoted would have liked a more graduted approach to high license. Say try $25 a month for a while and see how that works. Then raise it if thought advisable.

Walter S. Moore: My record is made. I stood up on this proposition when others fell down. You will have to examine the record.

H. J. Woolscott (liquor dealer): I am strongly in favor of it. In fact, I stood treat for the Council when they came in and told me what they had done. I used to live in a high-license place, and I know how the law works. Better put up $1000 and be allowed to keep open than $500 and be compelled to close
